Canned Tuna Drive!!

The Children's Ministry of FCC asks all members to donate tuna cans for their upcoming mission week. The kids will be serving the Dream Center July 12th through the 15th. Canned tuna will be accepted until July 14th.

The Dream Center's mission is to reach the Lubbock community and provide needs for our neighbors while spreading the Gospel. Our kids will be serving alongside them showing Christ's love to our town.

*Donated cans of tuna can be dropped off in the front office.
Help our kids help others!*

Mark Your Calendars Now!! First Christian Church to Host Rev. Dr. Douglas Skinner

First Christian Church will host this worship event on Friday and Saturday, September 8th-9th. It will be open to all area Disciples of Christ congregations and leaders.

Rev. Dr. Skinner is the Senior Minister at Northway Christian Church in Dallas, TX. Be on the lookout for more information coming soon and please make plans to join us!!

School Supply Drive!!

We are once again collecting school supplies for the students at Bean Elementary for the 2017-2018 school year!! At Bean 94.5% of the students enrolled are considered economically disadvantaged. The cost of school supplies can really add up for families. Often teachers make up the difference out of their own pockets so the students can be welcomed back to school with the materials they need. We will collect the following items from July 23rd through August 20th:

Composition Books, Spiral Notebooks, Big Pink Easers, Kleenex, Clorox Wipes, Ziploc Bags, Glue Sticks, Dry Erase Markers, Scissors (pointed), Colored Pencils

A Message From Rev. Carpenter

At First Christian Church the transition of leadership occurs in the heart of the summer – July 1st. This offers us a chance to evaluate the past year, to celebrate how God has used us for His glory, and to make adjustments for the next year. The following is my perspective as the Senior Minister.

FCC continued to express and lean upon the stalwart ministries that have been the core of our congregation for decades. Our worship life (both Traditional and Simply Worship) is orderly, prayerful, and centered around God's Word and God's glory. Our choir, under the direction of Brittney Hardin, continues to grow in number and execute their calling to lead us in worshipping the King through song. Our regular musicians, Susan Wass and Darryl Berry, continue to prepare and accompany the heart of the Church as we sing. Our musicians in Simply Worship serve as well with unity and faithfulness. Hand-bells have regrouped and our children's choir is currently developing.

Our education ministries are healthy, primarily built upon Sunday School. Our six adult classes provide reflection, accountability, and encouragement to our members. Many classes are nearing capacity. Every member of the church is encouraged to make Sunday School attendance a goal this year, and we would love to have to start two or three new classes this year. The strength of our children's ministry remains during the Sunday School hour as well. This is where we reach the most children with the Gospel and scripture. Our director of Children's Ministry, Holly Jessen, would love to hear from volunteers to teach and mentor our children on Sundays. In addition, our Child Development Center ministers Monday-Friday to 100+ children. Our youth and student ministry continues to grow both during the Sunday School hour and on Wednesday nights. This year the youth ministry shifted off campus to host homes for midweek fellowship. If you would like to host or assist, Scott Hall would love to discuss the possibilities with you. Our college ministry continues to develop and has become quite ecumenical. We host Tech and LCU students from a variety of backgrounds each Tuesday night.

One of the notable shifts this year has been in Outreach. Under the direction of Bob and Marcy Lawless, FCC has connected locally to Bean Elementary, which saw their greatest academic performance in five years and highest morale in a long time among teachers and staff. We continue to engage the homeless community through St. Benedicts and Family Promise. Lal Williams has led a trip to Haiti and feels the urge to be the lead on other overseas trips to help some of the most vulnerable. If you would like to volunteer call Jonna Russell in the church office to get plugged in.

There is so much that FCC has our fingerprints on. Homebound ministries, Elders, Deacons, pastoral care, counseling, teaching, and even delivering the sanctuary flowers; there is more than can be mentioned in one article. But I am encouraged as a member of this church to see the three greatest gifts be evident and utilized – faith, hope, and above all, love.

As we look forward there are a few things that I believe should be top priorities for this year. The first is to find more clarity when it comes to the Gospel. There is only one Gospel and if we build ministry on anything other than what is revealed by Jesus and spoken through scripture, then we cannot confidently assume God will prosper and thrive the future of FCC. As your pastor and preacher, I will continue to learn, preach, and teach from the Bible and offer up with clarity the hope we have in Jesus Christ alone. The second is to celebrate existing small groups and to launch new ones. The Gospel of Jesus Christ is appropriated best by living in community with people who know our struggles and who remind us weekly of our position in Christ through faith alone. Relationships have been one of the strengths of FCC and it is wise to quickly seek the same for all of our new members and for the folks who will join the fellowship in coming years. This Fall we will be rolling these affinity groups out. Please be prepared to either join up, encourage our church as we take these steps, and to pray that God will bless what we feel He is calling us toward. The third is to more assertively engage in local ministries of mission and evangelism. With Gospel clarity and Gospel-based communities, Christ's Church is strengthened to preach the Good News to unbelievers. Of all the new members and growth we've seen, very little is from new Christians. Along with many of you, I am convicted to take the Gospel to our neighbors with love and patience, and to acknowledge that this will require learning new things. This involves the whole Church. The concept of the "priesthood of all believers" does not mean to micromanage our local church, but to shine the Gospel out in the nations. This is the greatest calling and is the core of Christian living; to "go therefore and make disciples of all nations."

These three moves are timely and are fit for the season we're in now. I love our church and am pleased to live in days like these. I appreciate you allowing me to lead and to offer up your feedback and prayers. May God bless FCC and the fruitful field we are called to harvest. May He keep us faithful and effective, united and courageous, in Jesus' name.

In gratitude,
Pastor Paul

The Cure for Grumpiness. . . Marilyn Wragg

I have had some grumpy spells of late. As Pastor Paul preached from Jonah 4, I could thus identify with Jonah as he sat sulking under a vine outside the city.

Experience has taught me that when one thing bothers me, that thing may legitimately need correcting. But when multiple things bother me, most likely it is my attitude that needs correcting.

The most effective cure I have found for a grumpy attitude is prescribed in 1 Thessalonians, where the apostle Paul directs us to “rejoice, pray, and give thanks.”

However, when applying this cure for grumpiness, I have to shift the order of Paul’s three admonitions.

Rejoice always, pray continually, give thanks in all circumstances; for this is God’s will for you in Christ Jesus.

1 Thess. 5:16–18

1. First, I give thanks, because I cannot go straight from grumpy to rejoicing. When I start mentally to gripe about something or someone, I pause and ask what I have to be thankful for related to this situation. Most often, several things come to mind; if not, I ask God to forgive my stubbornness and give me a thankful heart. As soon as I tell God the first “thank you,” my heart begins to soften and other blessings come to mind.
2. Then, I pray. With my heart softened, my focus begins to shift to God’s bigger picture, where it is not all about me. I ask God to forgive and free me from pride and self-centeredness, and to give me a heart to pray for whatever persons or situations had been bugging me. The more I pray, the less I am bothered about whatever was bothering me, and the more I genuinely want God’s desired resolution.
3. Sure enough, as I persist in this pattern of thanksgiving and prayer, my grumpiness yields to joy. I am finally able genuinely to rejoice.

The bad news is that this is not a one-time cure. When we neglect giving thanks and praying, we can quickly revert to self-centered grumpiness. The good news is that, by God’s grace, we know and can readily reapply the cure. And the more often we do so, the more quickly we recognize, repent, and get back into the cycle of giving thanks, praying, and rejoicing—which is God’s will for us in Christ Jesus.

“Dear FCC Family, Thank you for the lovely floral arrangement delivered by Jill Nelson. It was not only beautiful, but it was very comforting knowing it had been in the sanctuary during services. I appreciate your prayers and concern, and give special thanks to my wonderful shepherding Elder, Marilyn Wragg.

In Christian love, Margaret Kennedy”

“Dear FCC Staff, thank you so much for all the help that each of you gave to the all-church banquet. You each in your own way and area helped so much. Our church’s brothers and sisters came together to honor God’s plan and helped us all to love each other even more. Thank you again. In Christian love, Zoe Phillips

“Dear Paul, Jonna, Brittney, and everyone else at FCC, Thank you so much for the beautiful journal, notebook, and backpack you gave me for graduation! I’ve already been using my journal to take notes at church services and I love it. I’m looking forward to using the backpack at school! I’m still job hunting, but I’m excited to share with you what I find. Thank you for constantly pointing me towards our Father. The biggest thing I’ve learned at FCC is that He truly does life better. Thanks again! Love, Allison Speziale”

A Look at Outreach in 2016-2017!!

The Outreach committee and congregation at FCC has had a busy year. Without your help, none of this would have been possible! FCC has provided school supplies, installed a drip irrigation system, supplied prayers, teacher appreciation lunches/gifts, books, pajamas, Valentine's day cards, a 5th grade awards banquet, and snacks to the students and staff at Bean Elementary. 14 people from FCC volunteered to be "lunch buddies" and were paired with 19 students! Someone from FCC was there every day of the week for this program!!

For the children and staff members in our Child Development Center, the committee, along with members of our church, provided prayer, monthly staff appreciation lunches, gave teacher appreciation gifts, Valentine's day gifts for the children, purchased and installed cork strips in the classrooms, and construction has begun for the Toddler Playground— a much needed feature for the CDC facility.

Additional outreach support included partnering with FCC-Amarillo in providing funds for an African Mission Project and providing supplemental funds for FCC-Lubbock Haiti Mission Trip. THANK YOU for reaching out to those in our community and for being the hands and feet of Jesus!

Follow God's example, therefore as dearly loved children and walk in the way of love, just as Christ loved us and gave himself up for us as a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God.

Sunday Life Group

The greatest adventure in life is not an exotic safari, a booming business, Disney World, or a relationship with that certain someone. Rather, it's discovering the purpose for your life. The Book of Ephesians is a survival manual that equips believers to thrive in a world that hates the message of Jesus Christ.

Paul the Apostle writes to encourage the believers in Ephesus but it wasn't meant to stop there! This letter is for any and all believers today. Remember the Lord didn't leave His Word and send His son for behavior modification rather He came and left His Word for soul transformation.

Come join me for donuts, coffee, and fellowship at 10:15 am every Sunday in Room 208.
