I'm writing this newsletter article from Florida during our annual family vacation. My parents, along with all of my siblings, gather with our families each year to love, support, and encourage each other. I'm dedicating this article to the ministry of the family, and how God uses ordinary people like brothers and sisters, moms and dads, to impact our hearts and minds for the better. First, one of the earliest showings of God's sovereignty in our life is Him determining our family. Some of us became family through adoption and others through biology; either way we can't help but see the hand of God in picking who are closest relationships would be. Your life and your family is not an accident but one of the ways God chooses to bless and humble us. For every family has great things and every family has unique challenges. The family God has given to Valerie and me is in some ways like my family of origin and in many ways different. In both cases it's clear that God assembled our families and cherishes them deeply. During family vacations I can't help but consider at how God has been with our families for generations and generations.

Second, a family that knows and honors God naturally disciples, evangelizes, and glorifies God. The biggest decision a person can make is to follow Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior. The same is true for a family. This puts us on a unique road that God blesses and uses for our good and His glory. As we're here in Florida, I see my mother who prays for all of her children and grandchildren every day and my father who leads us biblically and serves his local church as an elder. I see my brothers lead their wives and children as Christ loves the church, and along with my grandmother we discuss what is going on in our faith walk. Each night we gather on the beach and stand amazed at the handiwork of God. A faith based family is a gift that keeps on giving-normalizing prayer and praise.

Third, God is ready to redeem any family that will call on Him. While we all appreciate faith based homes sometimes it's hard to relate. We've all been disappointed and embarrassed by situations in our families. One thing is for certain: if faith is not the center of our homes God is willing and ready to help us make it so. Regardless of the level of faithfulness to Jesus found in your family consider these basic truths in order to pray directly for God's help. Statistically when the dad/husband begins to walk with Jesus the whole family tree is altered; zero in on fathers and husbands to know Jesus as Lord and to lead well. One of our members, Michael King, mentioned another law at work called the "80-20" rule. Either you are a family who is plugged into church 80% of the time or 20% of the time. If you are a family active in a local church you will certainly see the effect of faith and the practice of Christianity in your home. If you find yourself in a season of being a 20% family, recognize it and ask God for help to become an 80% family. The last principle I'd like to highlight is the attraction of holy things in our homes. Where is the place of prayer, scripture study, open conversations, and confession within our homes? If you've got kids or grandkids under your care, are they willing to come to you to talk through some of life's greatest difficulties and mysteries? Is the name of Jesus used with reverence and joy? God is ready to bless any home that is willing to call on Him.

As our vacation comes to an end and we prepare to return to Lubbock, I'm grateful for our family being rooted in a Christian family at First Christian Church. What a blessing it is to have unconditional love and support. In a world of change it's good to know that some things remain consistent. May God bless every household and all of our uniqueness as we honor God and live by faith.

Hezekiah's Prayer ... Marilyn Wragg

2 Kings 18–19 provides another example for praying in difficult circumstances. With a massive army on his doorsteps, King Hezekiah faced insurmountable odds. Assyria had already conquered the northern kingdom of Israel and deported its inhabitants. Sennacherib had captured all fortified cities of Judah and now threatened utterly to destroy Jerusalem and its people unless they surrendered and were deported.

Assyrian commanders taunted Judah and their God, boasting about nations and gods they had handily decimated. Sennacherib sent a letter warning Hezekiah not to depend upon his God: "Who of all the gods of these countries has been able to save his land from me? How then can the Lord deliver Jerusalem from my hand?"

When Hezekiah read the letter, he took it directly to the temple, spread it out before the Lord, and prayed.

Hezekiah's example has helped me through some dreadful situations. The next time you face a crisis, remember Hezekiah. Take the threat, however tangibly you need to, straight to God. Remember and call on God's attributes. State your request. Then, leave it to God to act in a way that furthers His glory.

And finally, remember that we cannot always see how God is working for good. But we can trust, in the words of Pastor Paul, "that God's glory and our good have been inextricably linked through Jesus."

Upon reading the letter, Hezekiah went straightaway to the temple and physically spread out the letter before the Lord.

Hezekiah recited God's mighty traits not only to praise God and entreat His deliverance, but also to remind himself of what he knew about God. Facing terrifying odds, Hezekiah needed to remember that his God alone was Sovereign.

Hezekiah then asked God to act in a way that would further His glory – "So that all may know that You, alone, Lord, are God."

"Lord, God of Israel... You alone are God over all kingdoms of the earth. You have made heaven and earth. Give ear, Lord, and hear; open Your eyes, Lord, and see; listen to the words Sennacherib has sent to ridicule the living God. It is true, Lord, that the Assyrian kings have laid waste these nations and have thrown their gods into the fire, for they were not gods but only wood and stone. Now, Lord our God, deliver us from his hand, so that all kingdoms of the earth may know that You alone Lord, are God." 2 Kings 19:15–19

COLLEGE MINISTRY

As we enter into this Fall season, I am filled with extreme excitement. I have rounded my first year as College Minister and I have learned a LOT! We have tried a lot of things that did not work and we have tried a lot of things that did work. God has big plans for FCC and our college ministry. Scripture calls us to "Pray in the Spirit at all times and on every occasion. Stay alert and be persistent in your prayers for all believers everywhere." (Ephesians 6:18). According to Jason Meyer, praying in the Spirit has three aspects: (1) admitting our inability, (2) enjoying the creation of a living communion with God, and (3) pleading the promises of God with boldness and assurance. It is my hope that this practice of prayer will allow me to see God's will and plan for the College Ministry with complete clarity this year. I hope you will also join me in praying in the spirit for our college students who are counted among "all believers everywhere." Plus, I could use some people who are ready to influence and care for our college students. I hope that person is YOU! Yes..YOU!. Contact me if you're ready to make a difference!

FCC has been a part of Saint Benedict's Chapel since 2008. I wish I had kept a record of how many Tuesdays, how many meals, how many of you have volunteered, how many hours and how much money. But statistics are not why FCC serves. The teams are people who want to serve.

Members who know that we are blessed to be a blessing. Each time we serve we are also blessed. And the good news is.....you can join a team!

There are teams that need to add members. Not just to serve the meal, but to prepare the food and/or deliver the food to the chapel. The teams serve on a rotating schedule, approximately every 9 weeks. If you would like to join this outreach mission please contact me by phone, 806.928.2717 or email at dreeves@rpdo.org. I will be glad to visit with you more and direct you to one of the team leaders.

BUT WAIT THERE IS MORE!

The mission statement of Saint Benedict's is "Feeding body and soul." The board is working on a project to increase the feeding of the soul. Part of this would be to have volunteers be at the chapel when we serve the meal, but they would visit and pray with the people we serve. This is still in the planning stage, but if this is a ministry that interests you let me know. — Dennis Reeves

Make up sessions will be available at 6:00pm every Monday before the next session begins at 7:00pm. Whenever I was the interim Youth Pastor in Amarillo, I recall one specific trip my partner and I had planned. This trip was our Middle School Mystery trip, it was a weekend full of fun, joy, laughter, and best of all throw up.....yes, throw up. Of all the things that I recall on the trip, the most distinct is how sick and queasy everybody got during this adventure. I bring that up because as people hurled threw the night, our friendships also kindled and sparked. It's as one of my professors called it "vomit ministry!" What he was getting at by using this term was that when one person gets sick/throws up it causes someone else to become vulnerable and susceptible and eventually throw up themselves. It was glorious! I got to be in the midst of watching this term play out but by the end of the weekend, after all the messes were cleaned up, all the tears were wiped away, and all our bags were headed home, we were much closer. We had shared in vulnerability and in hurt, which in turn led us to unite with each other that much more. I believe this whole idea of "Vomit Ministry" is one we can use in our faith walks today, excluding the actual vomit. The sharing of vulnerability and authenticity, leads others to likewise be vulnerable and authentic. I have often shared my weaknesses and how the Lord has brought me out of so much darkness and this has inspired people to do likewise. In the Bible belt, it's easy to cover our problems with a Christian mask where we don't allow anyone to see our sins, my struggles, our imperfections because the thought of being vulnerable scares us. To bare ourselves in all of our emotional and spiritual nakedness is terrifying, and Satan wants to keep it that way. Satan would love for everyone to claim a perfect lifestyle yet in the shadows be choked away by their sins. I truly believe Christ is calling us to a life of vulnerability, where no matter the pain or fear involved with baring our lives to others, we do so anyway. The Church is empowered by their testimony and vulnerability, Satan's power is re-vanquished when we expose him and his ploys to the light. I hope even after reading this you'll be encouraged to share with a friend, a child, a stranger, or a loved one what the lord is doing in your life. May we all allow God's radiant light to expose us for who we truly are, his children.

In the Life of the Church... by Deborah Bigness

On August 10, 1943, First Christian Church lost John R. McGee, one of its charter members. As the 1961 history of the church says, "The persistence of John R. McGee during those early years is largely responsible for there being a Christian Church in Lubbock."

Born in central Texas in 1853, Mr. McGee was a cowboy and a Texas Ranger in his youth. A lawyer by trade, he served as the County Treasurer in McCullough County for many years before coming to Lubbock in 1901, at a time when the town's population was approximately 300. That same year, Mr. Gee arranged for Elder Lay of Colorado City to come to Lubbock and officially organize the church.

Before the first resident pastor was hired in 1909, Mr. McGee was the official contact for the church, conducted last rites as a lay pastor and was the person that all of the members depended on in church matters. During these same years, he served six years as Lubbock County Judge, followed by six years as County Attorney, and was a prominent leader of several civic organizations.

Coming in Sept. – Have you been visiting First Christian for a while or know someone who has? Do you want to know more about Christ and/or go deeper in your walk? Perhaps you just met a visitor in church or Bible Study who you think might be interested in knowing more about our wonderful church? Are you ready to take the Next Step?

A one day class will be offered right after the late service from 12-1:30 pm on Sunday, Sept. 29. Lunch will be provided, as well as childcare. Contact Donna Childers at donna@fcclubbock.org or 806.763.1995 to RSVP, or if you have questions.

CHILDREN'S MINISTRY MISSION WEEK

These kiddos spent three days serving the Lubbock Dream Center. They put their faith into action and worked hard with open and loving hearts. They washed the Dream Center's vans, did yard work at the New Legacy Home, cooked the ladies lunch at the New Legacy Home, cooked breakfast serving the homeless community, attended Adopt A Block and played with the neighborhood kids. They served the Lord freely knowing their reward is in heaven. Some children who have never prayed out loud at church not only prayed out loud in front of their peers but also for homeless strangers.

On the drive back from working at the Dream Center several kids noticed the same homeless couple on the same street corner they had seen multiple times in the last few days. Not only did they ask to stop and pray with them but they also gave them the water, chips, and sandwiches we
